

Rammenau Baroque Castle & Stolpen Castle

Invited by the chambermaid

Off to the countryside! Experience a Saxon country manor located only a 40-minute drive along the highway from Dresden. Vivacious country baroque, embedded in the green hills, little forests and valleys of the idyllic Upper Lusatia – this is Rammenau Baroque Castle.

Its historical rooms and their interior reveal exciting stories of its former owners and of Baroque and Classicist interior designs. Stylish salons, precious porcelain and enchanting murals will make you dream of what life was like at what used to be a summer residence. You can find relaxation at its best in the romantic landscape park right at the castle.

Inspired by cosmopolitan trade, the time of the Baroque was fascinated by exotic cultures. Its most favored style was the chinoiserie. Asian models influenced the artists and artisans and their repertoire of shapes and forms. At Rammenau Baroque Castle, it is mainly the tapestries in the Chinese Room that tell of a carefree way of living in far-off lands and, thus, of the first stage of interior decoration of the castle.

Round off your outing to the country Baroque by paying a visit to the superb castle restaurant. The historical dining salons and the castle terrace invite you to take delight in the dining culture offered by the former castle kitchen or enjoy the hearty meals served from the servants' kitchen.

You can also rent it for your event.

The Rammenau Baroque Castle is ideally suited for your special event. Be it a wedding or other large functions – you will find the appropriate setting at Rammenau.

Stolpen Castle

& Rammenau Baroque Castle

Stolpen Castle – simply inescapable

On the way from Dresden into Saxon Switzerland, one can behold it from afar already. The towers of the Stolpen castle rise into the sky like raised forefingers. This place is special. Marked by the fate of a woman who did not want to give in, which she had to pay for dearly by being incarcerated in the former castle for almost 50 years. Eventually she was also buried there. Talk is, of course, of Anna Constantia von Brockdorff, better known as Countess Cosel – or more popularly as Saxony’s bestknown king’s mistress.

The impressive estate in the cozy little town of Stolpen has yet more to offer. The castle is situated on top of a mountain, which in its turn is very special, too. It is of volcanic rock, of basalt. The basalt rock of Stolpen is one of the most important volcanic rock formations in the Saxon and North-Bohemian region and, as a natural monument, it bears the status of a »National Geotope«.

And something else: at Stolpen Castle, one can marvel at the deepest well that has ever been driven into basalt rock. Its gullet is 85 meters deep. Hold on tight when you stand on the edge of that well and gaze into the dark abyss. Even if only remainders of the once proud castle and fortress have survived: Stolpen can look back on a well-fortified history. Listen to Countess Cosel taking you on a tour, or attend one of the numerous events.
